SOME OF OUR MORE monetary-minded friends, as well as our Dorothy, were quick to point out that our explanation in last week's column of how to convert pesos to dollars and vice versa was all wrong.

We had noted, in reference to our recent Mexico trip, that it took eight pesos to make one of our bucks.

That's wrong.

There are 12½ pesos to every dollar and one peso is valued at about eight cents. (We hope we have it right this time.)

It is easy for us to become confused in this monetary-exchange routine. Obviously we will never be asked to handle fiscal relations between countries.

The nations involved conceivably might have a difficult time getting back on the proper evaluation standard if we used our concept of the rate of exchange.

So for the interest of all concerned, and by not so subtle request, our Dorothy generally is in charge of such matters in our household.

However, there were times in Mexico when we didn't have our wife around to do the calculating for us.

We had been told that the simple way of figuring what an item marked in pesos cost in our money was to "multiply by 8" and move the decimal place a couple of places.

It worked pretty well.

Except it confused us as to how many pesos actually were in a dollar.

Let's see now ---

Skip it.

We are sticking to dollars and cents at present.

That's tough enough.

UNTIL WE GOT USED TO it, the price tags on items in the various stores in Mexico made us a little nervous, inasmuch as the sign for their peso ($) and the sign for our dollar ($) is the same.

For example, we picked out a sports coat in one store that was marked $500. At first glance, that $ sign sort of shook us. But it was in pesos.

(You can figure out what it cost in our money. We won't even help you.)

We appreciated the selection and quantity of sport coats that were available in our size in that store. That doesn't happen around here. We seldom have much of a choice in our size. But apparently they grow 'em smaller in Mexico.

AS WE ARRIVED IN Mexico City, delegates to the Lions International convention were on their way out of town.

It was reported that about 50,000 were in attendance at the Lions convention, which somewhat taxed the transportation and hotel facilities.

Fortunately we missed the main exodus. But you can just imagine the mob scene at the airport that occurred during the big exit.

Just handling the baggage alone would have been a monumental task.

In our case, shifting and sifting our baggage on the trip did not present too much of a problem.

Ironically, the biggest hang-up as far as the bags were concerned occurred in San Jose at the very end of our vacation.

The baggage conveyor fouled up and there was a half-hour delay before the thing was back to dumping bags normally again.

As we mentioned, the Lions Club convention was a pretty big thing for Mexico City and the people probably are more conscious now of the activities of that one service club than it was ever thought possible.

Apropos of service clubs, Homer Hyde's long-time membership in the Rotary Club came in handy on one occa-

CALIFORNIA SAVINGS
OPEN

AT BASCOM AND CAMPBELL

First savings-loan firm within city opens Monday

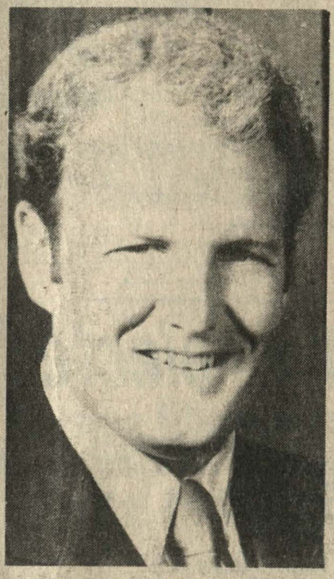
California Savings & Loan Company at 1998 S. Bascom Ave. will hold a five day opening celebration starting Monday, Aug. 7, marking the opening of the first savings and loan firm to be located within the city limits of Campbell.

Situated at the intersection of Bascom and Campbell avenues, the new building is across the street from Campbell's fabled PruneYard. It is the sixth office to be opened by the San Francisco-headquartered company established in 1887.

D. Russell Symon, president of the company, is the third generation of the Symon family to serve in this capacity. The company was originally established by James Symon, a Scottish shipwright whose ship stopped in San Francisco in 1852 enroute to the "Sandwich Islands" (now the Hawaiian Islands).

Edward G. Anderson, a native of Palo Alto, has been named to the post of manager-appraiser for the Campbell offices. Anderson had been with the company for two years before being selected to head the local staff.

Anderson received his primary and secondary education at Atascadero and continued his education at the College of San Mateo and the University of California.



EDWARD ANDERSON —savings firm manager

He served in the U.S. Army as hospital laboratory technician. He is married and lives with his wife Janet in Sunnyvale. After five years of marriage, the Andersons are expecting their first child this month.

Anderson is a member of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and an affiliate member of the San Jose Real Estate Board.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Commission gets 'Sunsweet' plans

A zone change request before the Planning Commission next Monday, Aug. 7, for a portion of the Sunsweet property on First and Central could have a far-reaching effect on "downtown" Campbell, according to city planning officials.

The zone change application by Richard B. Millen is from M-2-S (manufacturing) to P-D (planned development), the first step in a proposed commercial development for the area on which Sunsweet has conducted its operations for many years.

A number of warehouses and other facilities are presently on the property which, because of its key location relative to the future "south loop" and any other modifications to "downtown Campbell," has long concerned the Planning Commission and the City Council.

Some city officials maintain that the development of that particular area is almost of equal importance to this city's future as the PruneYard.

Bob Stewart, who was named vice-chairman of the Planning Commission when Don Hebard was elevated to chairman upon the resignation of Dale Scott, will preside at Monday's meeting. Hebard is

Towers hit by gunfire

Damage estimated at more than $3000 was done to windows and panels by gunfire on the freeway side of "The Towers" some time during the weekend, Campbell police report.

According to the police, some time during the weekend about 10 shots were fired either by a pistol or rifle from the freeway into the fourth, fifth and sixth floors of the 18-story building.

The incident was not discovered until people in The Towers reported for work on Monday morning when the police were notified.

IN LITTLE LEAGUE PLAY

Campbell all-stars win District 44 title

For the second time in three years, Campbell Little League all-stars have been crowned District 44 champions. Campbell won the crown last Friday by defeating the Moreland Little League team 7-5 in Santa Clara.

To win the district championship, Campbell won four straight games, defeating Santa Clara Eastside, Santa Clara Briarwood, Sunnyvale Southern and Moreland.

There are 17 games in the "sudden death" tournament trail leading to the world championship in Williamsport. It takes 14 wins to gain the world series playoff, which means that the Campbell contingent, after Friday's win, had 10 more to go.

The Campbell all-stars played in Pacifica last night in first sub-section game.

Campbell's opponent last Friday, Moreland, was district champions in 1962 and went all the way to be crowned world champions. The Campbell team after winning the district title in 1970, went to the world series finals in Williamsport, Pa.

On [illegible] Lizer was the w[illegible]er, allowing six hit[illegible] district battle. Cliff Judd was on the mound for two wins and Lizer for two.

Mark Izatt slammed a two-run homer and John Aure hit one with the bases empty to help the Campbell cause. Paul Nickeson hit a homer for Moreland.

Campbell scored two runs in the first, one in the third, two in the fourth and two in the sixth to finish ahead of Moreland. In the meantime, Moreland scored two in the first and one in each of the last three stanzas.

ALL-STARS LOSE

Campbell Little League all-stars, after winning the District 44 championship on Friday, lost their bid for the sectional bunting on Monday by losing 7-5 to Pacifica at Pacifica.

Homeruns featured the contest with Les Lizer, Cliff Judd and Mark Izatt hitting circuit blows for Campbell and Fazzio getting two for Pacifica.

CofC MEETING

Directors of Campbell Chamber of Commerce will meet this Thursday (Aug. 3) at noon in Sambo's, 1461 W. Campbell Ave. The executive committee will convene prior to the luncheon meeting at 11 a.m.

BUDGET HEARING MONDAY, AUG. 7

School district gets boost in income of $1.7 million

When the trustees of Campbell Union (elementary) School District hold their final budget hearing for the fiscal year 1972-73 next Monday, August 7, they will be dealing with $1.7 million more in anticipated income than was the case when the preliminary budget was adopted in June.

The board meets at 7 p.m. in the administration office.

Three factors are the causes of this increase, Superintendent Jim D'Avis explains: (1) approval by the voters (5738 to 3325) on July 25 of a continuation of the $2.55 tax rate; (2) a higher assessed valuation than had been estimated, and (3) an unexpected state allocation of $202,000.

Because the voters on February 29 had turned down a proposed 50-cent hike in the tax rate ($2.55 to $3.05), the preliminary budget that was adopted in June was based on the $1.80 rate that officially went into effect on June 30.

However, approval of the $2.55 rate makes it possible to make adjustments before the final budget is adopted.

D'Avis estimates that the $2.55 rate will bring in $1,351,822 more than the $1.80 rate would have.

Preliminary estimates had called for a 3% increase in assessed valuation for the next year. Actually the percentage will be about 6.6% which will bring an additional $225,000 into the district coffers.

The state allocation of $202,000 also had not been anticipated.

The additional income will bring the budget for the district up to approximately $11,472,000 as compared to the preliminary budget of $9,693,278

D'Avis indicated that the voter approval on July 25 will allow the re-employment of approximately 50 teachers who would have been dismissed if the continuation had been turned down and the $1.80 rate would have gone into effect.

D'Avis added also that it will also be possible under the present circumstances to increase the district's reserve. He said that under the $1.80 rate, it had been necessary to show the reserve at the "dangerously low figure of $40,000.

The trustees and the superintendent are expected to make their selection for the new business manager of the district within a few weeks.

At the present time, the board is interviewing the "finalists" for the vacancy that will be created upon the resignation of C. E. Bradley, district business manager since 1952. The board has accepted Bradley's resignation as of Dec. 30, 1972.

There were 87 applications for the position, D'Avis said.

HIGH SCHOOL BOARD

At the board of trustees meeting of Campbell Union High School District on Tuesday (after press time), the $19 million budget of the district was scheduled to be approved and the trustees were expected to act on various administrative transfers as recommended by Superintendent Nick Montesano.

IN SAN JOSE AUDITORIUM

Students present music program this Thursday

Culminating six weeks of practice, more than 200 youngsters participating in the 1972 summer music program of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District, will present a public concert this Thursday, Aug. 3, at 7:30 p.m.

The program will take place at the San Jose Civic auditorium.

The evening will begin with the intermediate orchestra, directed by John Cathey, with renditions of "Two Waltzes," "Chinese Garden," and "The Alarm Clock."

They will be followed by the beginning strings who will offer several selections. The beginning strings are directed by Wally Johnson.

The beginning band will perform "Aura Lee" and "The Crusaders," directed by Al Alarid and Dave Dunton.

The intermediate band will follow with "Mambo from the Congo," "Shout Amen!," and "Chopsticks." The intermediate band is led by Bill Resch.

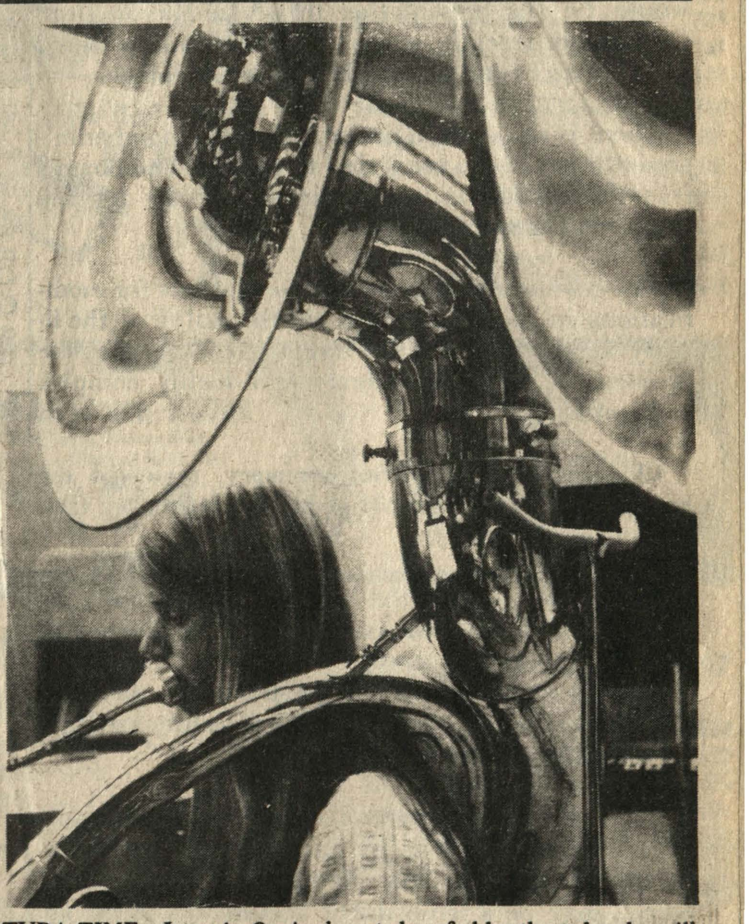
"Everything is Beautiful," and selections from "Fiddler on the Roof" will be presented by the choir, directed by Ken Taylor and accompanied by Sherree Young.

The advanced orchestra, under the direction of Wally Johnson, will offer five selections: "Goofus", "I'm an Old Cowhand", "I'd Like to Teach the World to Sing", "Hopak", and "Tardecita."

The drum corps will follow in a routine taught by David Steele.

The evening will end with the advanced band, directed by Ed Tonini. They offer "Courtley Festival", "Put Your Hand in the Hand", "Joy to the World" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Approximately 210 students from fourth to eighth grade are involved in the summer festival of music.



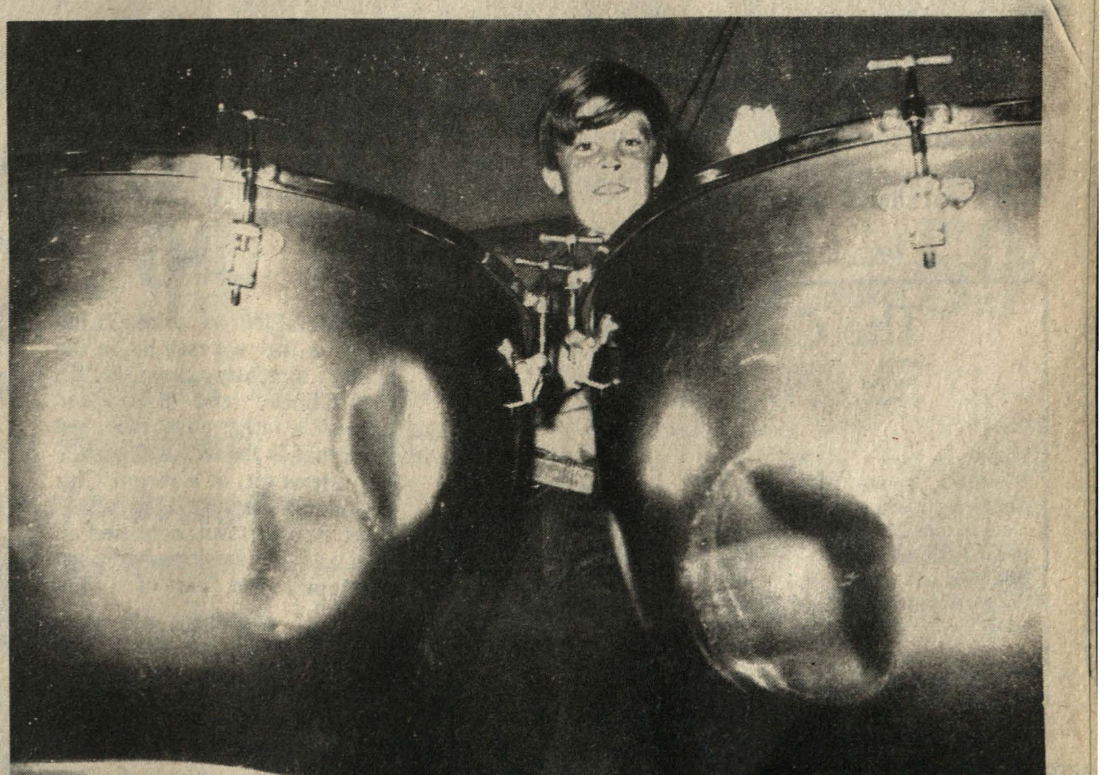
TUBA TIME---Jeannie Orr is almost dwarfed by the tuba she will be playing in the 1972 Summer Music Program of the Campbell Union School District. Jeannie is featured in the advanced band. The students will perform on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the San Jose civic auditorium.

Board acts on budget

At the regular board meeting this Thursday, Aug. 3, the governing board of West Valley College is scheduled to adopt the $20 million budget for the fiscal year after holding the final public hearing on it.

In the special election on July 25, William L. Cilker, chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, was elected to the vacancy on the board created by the resignation in March when Ed Panelli was appointed Superior Court judge.

Cilker topped a field of five. In second place was John Mallen, followed by Dr. Antony Gualtieri, Lois A. Josephson and Roy Perez.



THE BIG BEAT—Tom Scott from Monroe School strikes the timpani in rhythm with the music for the 1972 summer music program of the Campbell Union School District. Tom, a fifth grader, is one who will be performing at the San Jose Civic Auditorium on August 3 at 7:30 p.m.

Editorial

Make it clear

Within a relatively few weeks, the Planning Commission is scheduled to make recommendations to the City Council on possible modifications to the general plan of the city.

The recommendations will be based on the results of many public hearings held by the Planning Commission over a period of several months at which the city's general plan was studied minutely. Interested citizens were invited to suggest possible changes.

These recommendations that will be submitted by the Planning Commission, if approved by the City Council, could have a far-reaching effect on the city's future.

Thus it is extremely important, in our opinion, that the recommendations be presented in a clear and concise manner so that citizens and city officials alike will have a complete understanding of the intent.

Unfortunately, in a field as complex as the general plan, it is easy to become bogged down with technical details and descriptions that often tend to cloud the issues.

We urge the Planning Commission and the planning staff to summarize their recommendations on the general plan in such a manner that misunderstandings as to the determined objectives will be held to a minimum.

We are well aware that in complex planning and land use problems it is not always possible to simplify the guidelines. Obviously, any recommendations must be based on research, references and illustrations.

We are merely suggesting that the summary of the recommendations be presented in a down-to-earth manner.

The Planning Commission has made a sincere effort to review the general plan from all aspects. A tremendous amount of "input" from staff members, commissioners and interested citizens has been received.

But, it has been our observation, that only in a relatively few instances, comparatively speaking, will the recommendations of the Planning Commission seek to greatly modify the basic general plan that has been in effect for 10 years.

We recognize that "summarizing" anything as complex as changes in a general plan is not a simple matter. But we emphasize that the recommendations are not only for official city consumption but are also for citizens as a whole.

A "model" of what is desired in such a summary would be the presentation that Vice-Mayor Dean Chamberlin recently made before the County Board of Supervisors on the Campbell library situation.

There is no question in our mind that Chamberlin's presentation had a great deal to do with the board's favorable action in committing $265,000 for the Campbell library building.

While we concede that recommendations for modifications in the general plan and the status of the library are quite dissimilar, the fact remains that the problems affecting the library were highly complex and confusing.

Chamberlin in his brief summary, reviewed the background and ticked off point after point in a tactful yet forceful manner.

He did not confuse the issue with unnecessary details yet his outline was complete and he touched all the bases.

The supervisors had no questions to ask when Chamberlin had finished which was probably the highest compliment that could be paid.

The comparison between the pending recommendations for modifications by the Planning Commission of the general plan and Chamberlin's library "summary" may be a trifle unfair because the issues are obviously quite different.

On the other hand, the basic principle is much the same. Reports of such nature should be concise, clear and basic but yet complete enough to cover the situation.

We reiterate that the pending recommendations concerning the city's general plan are important to all of us so we hope they will be couched in terms that we all can understand.

It was sort of a delayed appreciation gesture.

A CAMPBELL ADDRESS directory has been compiled by Wally Byron, city building official, and staff.

It contains only address numbers and streets that are in the City of Campbell. Some of these numbers may have Los Gatos or San Jose addresses but they are within the boundaries of Campbell.

The addresses are correct as of July 1 and the type of occupancy is designated by the address.

All the streets in town are listed in the book and we assume the streets are designated correctly because Wally and his staff did a tremendous amount of research on the project.

And we hope the street signs that designate the streets will eventually correspond with book.

FROM TIME TO TIME IT has been pointed out that some street signs in town have been inconsistent as to the proper nomenclature for a particular thoroughfare.

For example, some of the signs on Latimer show it as a "street," while other signs within a few blocks show it as an "avenue." The new directory calls Latimer an "avenue."

The same thing applies to Fewtrell. The directory lists Fewtrell as a "drive" but some street signs call it "avenue."

Bill Wren, public works director, gave a progress report to the City Council recently as to a survey that was being conducted by his department on the street sign situation.

He said a number of discrepancies have been uncovered and steps would be taken to correct them.

Wren had been asked by the Council to look into the matter after some citizens had wondered out loud (to the Council) why consistency couldn't be attained in the street signs.

While it is true that it should not be considered a major problem, still we see no reason why the streets can't be designated properly.

Maybe this new directory of the building department can now be used as the "official" reference.

The street people should check with the directory people before any street signs go up.

Even if the proper designation is given a particular thoroughfare, the name of the street itself can be misspelled.

Wren submitted, as a case in point, "McGlincey Lane."

It seems there is a difference of opinion, both officially and unofficially, as to whether it's "ey" or plain "y" on the end.

Byron's book shows it as "ey." But others maintain that the right way is without the "e".

We are no help.

Over the years that we have had occasion to use the name of the street, we have spelled it both ways.

Could that be called a two-way street?

-0-

McGLINCEY or McGLINCY, as the case may be, in the city directory, there is "E. McGlincey" and "S. McGlincey," a rather novel twist but factual as the map will show.

However, at a recent City Council meeting, City Manager Bob Stephens confused all of us when he described a development as "east of Hamilton."

You can't find that on any map.

Another matter that has concerned the Planning Commission for some time and will be before that body again next Monday is the long-pending application of the Bethel Church for a 130-unit apartment complex in a triangular area that has access to El Patio.

The complex, according to its supporters, will be basically for senior citizens. However, some criticism has been leveled at the plans because they call for some three-story buildings. Another criticism has been that the accesses will be on El Patio, a minor residential street. Efforts to get access over the tracks to Salmar have proved fruitless.

Concern has also been expressed over the high density (30.5 to an acre) that the plans call for. A mobile home park that had been recommended for the area in the general plan calls for 12 to an acre.

Another item on the agenda the request by William Briggs (for Howard Homes, Inc.) for an extension of time in the development schedule for offices and apartments at San Tomas Expressway and Hamilton also may be questioned by some of the commissioners. When the plans were originally approved they called for a density of 40 per acre.

Since the original approval, there has been a change in the city's density policy. As an example, city planners point out, the property is only 1500 feet from the Amato property where the density approved so far is only seven per acre.

Other matters on the Commission's agenda next Monday include, the continued hearing on the use permit for E. R. Nolen for a single-family residence on a sub-standard lot at 313 Grant and the continued hearing on the application of Lincoln Property Co. for a 264-unit complex on N. Union Ave.

Don Koll, Inc., is requesting approval of plans for a seven-building office complex at 286 E. Hamilton and Carl W. McGee is requesting approval for the conversion of a residence to an office at 42 W. Campbell.

Parnas Co., Ltd. has applied for a zone change (R-1 to C-2-S) for property at 2325 Winchester (at Budd) and D & D Properties have requested a zone change from R-1 to R-3-S at 825 Apricot.

Another application for "warehouse row" on Dillon is also filed. E. L. Eberhardt is seeking approval of a warehouse at 103 Dillon Ave.

This year about 115,000 people won't listen to Smokey.

Don't be one of them.

Deadline set for home ec at Fair

All persons wishing to enter the Home Economics Department of the Santa Clara County Fair may bring their entry forms and exhibits to the Fairgrounds Pavilion Monday, July 31 through Aug. 7, according to Mrs. Campbell, Department Chairman.

Clerks will be in the Pavilion from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. to accept entries for the entire seven day period. Deadline for entries is Wednesday, Aug. 8.

Categories in the women's department include baked goods and confections; clothing and textiles; frozen foods, feature displays, handicrafts, international booths, preserved foods, weaving, knitting, quilting, rugs, painting, lapidary exhibits and canning.

LEADING THE BAND---Ed Tonini directs students in the advanced band of the 1972 summer music program of the Campbell Union School District. Students from fourth to eighth grade are participating in the program. This Thursday, August 3, the students will take their weeks of hard work to the public in a 7:30 p.m. showing at the San Jose civic auditorium.

County supervisors okay library budget, tax hike

Another major step was taken last Friday in the long road toward Campbell's new library building when the county supervisors approved a revised county library district budget of $2,611,183 and a tax increase of 3.5 cents to finance it.

The library budget includes an allocation of $265,000 to supplement the other funds available for Campbell's new library. The supervisors, the previous week, had authorized the $265,000.

The library district tax is currently 21-cents and the action by the supervisors brings it up to 24.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation. A budget of $2,830,635 had originally been proposed and a six-cent tax hike had been recommended. Last year's budget was $2,197,911.

The separate library tax does not affect San Jose or other cities that operate their own systems.

Construction of the Campbell library could conceivably be under way by the start of the new year on the property that already has been acquired by the city across from the city hall between Central and Harrison.

A new library building in Morgan Hill is expected to be ready by next March and plans have been firmed up for a similar facility in Gilroy.

Re: Royer v. Steinberg, et al.

Gentlemen:

You are invited to attend the August 7, 1972 budget hearing to assist the Board in deliberations of the following items prior to adopting the 1972-'73 official budget.

1. Who is defending the lawsuit Royer v. Board of Trustees?

2. Who will pay damages in the event of a decision against the Trustees? What portion of claimed damages may be paid out of the district's general fund, undistributed reserves?

3. Who is defending the lawsuit entitled Royer v. Steinberg, MacQuiddy, Graham—Armstrong, Does One through Twenty?

4. What costs to the district have been incurred to date in defense of both suits? What costs are anticipated?

5. Would you please, be prepared to cite code sections or precedents to support usage of tax revenues for defense of private individual lawsuits?

6. Who will pay special, general and punitive damages if a judgment is rendered in the above mentioned lawsuits?

The purpose of this review is to determine the district's exposure and to explore the possibility of earmarking district funds to cover these contingencies. This review should be properly incorporated into public hearing on the budget at 8 p.m., August 7, 1972.

If you are not able to attend, any answers you could provide in advance would be much appreciated.

Very truly yours,
Judy Ruscigno
Trustee, Campbell

OT PROGRAM

pecial early enrollment announced for Camden High

Camden High School students will return to school a week early this fall so they can choose the classes and teachers they want for the 1972-73 school year.

Registration of all Camden students will be completed September 6 and 7. The new college-type registration plan is a pilot program in the Campbell Union High School District.

Starting with seniors on Wednesday morning, September 7, students will register according to an alphabetically arranged time schedule, explained Kathy Bull, director of education.

Registration desks where teachers and counselors will be available to aid students will be set up in the school cafetorium.

Letters stating the registration time and including program cards and instructions for registration have been mailed to all students.

Last spring, in a pre-registration program, students selected the courses and incoming freshmen students were pre-registered at each feeder elementary school in the Camden area.

At the special registration students will choose the teachers and class times they want for their courses. Students who do not register on these two days will be allowed to register late but aren't as likely to get their first choises, Miss Bull explained.

"We feel that students who are actively involved in making their own programs will work better and enjoy their classes more," she said. An added benefit of the program is that all students can be registered and class rolls completed before the opening day of school, September 12.

This plan should reduce student requests for schedule changes, free counselors to spend more time working with students and less time as "program changers", achieve balanced classes and teacher loads, and perhaps, entice even reluctant students to become actively involved in their school programs.

Students new to the district or needing program changes because they completed courses in summer school should come to the school office before the end of August. Counselors will be available starting August 21.

For students living in a bus zone, buses will run on September 6 and 7 with pickups at 7:25 a.m. and 12:25 p.m. and return runs at 12:00 noon and 4:00 p.m.

SPECIAL SIGN-UP---Camden High students Denise Hands and Laurie Riordan (foreground) select fall classes under the guidance of Kathy Bull, director of education. Waiting their turn in the background are Greg Addington and Jerry Crawford. The pilot program at the school will commence September 6.

PRINCIPAL --- Roger Smith, who served as a teacher, counselor and dean in Campbell Union High School District for 11½ years before taking the position of assistant principal in Antioch High School, has accepted the position of Atascadero Junior High School for next year. Smith was teacher and counselor at Camden High and three years at Branham High as dean.

Beckman leads fight for city college bill

Dr. Arnold O. Beckman, internationally known scientist and industrial leader, has been named chairman of a state citizens committee working for passage of the $160 million bond issue for community college construction on the November ballot.

Founder and chairman of the board of Beckman Instruments, Inc., of Fullerton, Beckman will direct the efforts of a committee of California businessmen to garner public support and raise compaign funds for the issue.

The bond issue, if passed, will provide funds for classrooms and other teaching facilities for 80,000 additional students over the next three years at the state's 95 community colleges in 68 community college districts.

Locally, passage of the state bond issue will mean the influx of approximately $5.6 million of state money into the West Valley College district for the Saratoga and Mission campus building programs. San Jose City College will also benefit from passage of the bond.

A simple majority is required for passage of bonds in the November 7 election.

California's 95 community colleges now total 850,000 students—more than all students in the state university system and the University of California combined.

BPW

The Peninsula District's Fall Conference of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will be held at the Holiday Inn on Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco on September 30 and October 1.

The Campbell BPW is one of the many chapters of the national club. BPW has traditionally been a leader in national issues, providing strong support for the equal pay bill and endorsing the Equal Rights Amendment in 1973. The BPW has a permanent observer at the United Nations.

Turtles speed in raceway challenge

It may not be the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, but the 6th annual World Championship Turtle and Tortoise Races will be speeding along on Saturday, August 5 at Happy Hollow Children's Park!

Registration will be taken on the day of the race, beginning at 9 a.m. and ending at 1:30 p.m. Races begin at 2 p.m.

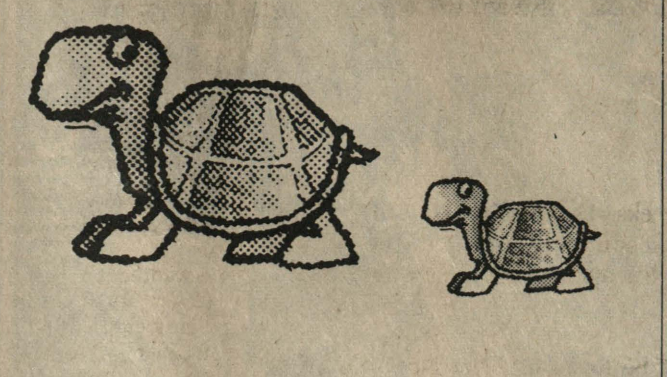
The circle race will pit turtle against tortoise in an exciting contest to see which entry can be first to run to the outside edge of a 20 foot circle from the center.

The second race is "cross-country" and is won by the first entry to run from one end of a fabricated raceway to the other, overcoming water barriers and hurdles.

The third race, a slowpoke event, will be for tortoises only.

There is no charge for entering the contest but each entry must provide his or her own turtle or tortoise.

Last year over 600 turtles and six tortoises competed for 18 trophies and 36 ribbons for first, second and third place in each of the divisional races. All entries will be awarded participation ribbons.



Happy Hollow Children's Park is located at 620 Keyes St. in San Jose. The telephone number of the park is 277-4000.

IRISH LASSIES---Nancie Gosnell, Carolyn Smyth, Cathie and Judie Gosnell of Forest Hill School do a bit of the ol' Irish stepping for a talent show at Monroe School, one of the culminating events of the summer recreation program.

Talent show is final event of summer

With a little bit of Irish, the Roaring Twenties and the rockin' sixties, a talent show of students from 12 schools in Campbell Union School District's recreation program "wowed" 'em Tuesday night at Monroe School.

One of the many presentations of the evening was some 16 girls, ages 6 to 11, from Forest Hill School whose featured attraction was "The Twenties Revue," a Charleston group made up of Patty Gideon, Kim Giedt, Diana James, Bissy Lichti, Gretchen Lichti, Kathryn Lichti, Sylvia Madrid, Jessica Torres, Ellen Vedquam and Julie Vedquam.

They were followed by "Carrie and Her Dancing Girls," with lead singer Carrie Hamlin receiving support from Bissy Lichti, Nancy Gosnell and Cindy Whited. Carrie, 10, sang "Let Your Love Go."

Forest Hill concluded its evening with "The Irish Dancers," which featured three Gosnell sisters, Cathie, Judie and Nancy, and Carolyn Smyth.

Students from all over the Campbell Union School District participated in the event.

Directors of the Forest Hill program were Ed Walters, Julie Stewert, Sharon Carlson and Mike Jones.

This is the final activity of the summer recreation programs offered by the Campbell School District.

AFRICAN VIOLET

The African Violet Society of South Bay will hold its regular meeting on Tuesday, August 15, at 1 p.m. in the Northern California Savings Community Room at 10250 Saratoga-Sunnyvale Road, Cupertino. The meeting is open to the public.

ROOTIN'-TOOTIN'-GENTS---John P. Healy, Jr., Don Benson and Dave Spikings burst into song in "Annie Get Your Gun," to be presented by the San Jose Children's Musical Theater on August 12, 13, 19, 20, 26 and 27.

Saturday performances begin at 8 p.m., Sunday shows start at 3 p.m. All shows will be staged at St. Francis Cabrini Hall on Camden Avenue between Union and Bascom.

MR. and MRS. J. MATTHEW MOORE

Susan Giacomazzi weds Matthew Moore

Susan Adele Giacomazzi became the bride of J. Matthew Moore recently in an afternoon ceremony performed by Reverend G. Allen Read in the Immanuel Lutheran Church in San Jose.

Susan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Grell, chose for her wedding day a gown of white organza fashioned with Venice lace bodice and Bishop sleeves, complimented with a floor length mantilla edged in Venice lace.

To complete her ensemble, the bride chose a bouquet of lavender sweet peas, pink baby roses, bouvardia and baby's breath centered with a gardenia.

Kristina Cave of Campbell and San Diego, long-time friend of the bride, and Carol Abate of San Jose, cousin of the bride, served dually as maids of honor. Bridesmaids were Kathleen Creed of Davis, Christine Kage, and Rebecca Moore of Lincoln, sister of the groom.

Flower girl was Erin Petersen, cousin of the bride. The attendants were gowned in lavender dotted swiss trimmed with lace and ribbon and carried pink baby roses, white carnations, lavender corn flowers and baby's breath.

Matthew, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Moore of Lincoln, California, asked Alan Ahart to be his best man. Ushers were John Martin of Davis, Lincoln Covington of Markleeville, uncle of the groom, Robert Finstead and Charles Grell.

Mrs. Everett W. Grell attended her daughter's wedding in a pink lace dress and coat ensemble completed with a white orchid, while the groom's mother, Mrs. J. Fred Moore, wore a champagne beige lace coat dress enhanced with a lavender orchid.

Among the out-of-town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. William E. Cave of San Diego, formerly of Campbell.

Before leaving on a honeymoon trip to Carmel, the couple greeted 200 guests at a champagne buffet reception at the History Club of Los Gatos where the pink and lavender decor was carried out.

Susan is a 1967 alumna of Del Mar High School, a graduate of University of California at Davis, and obtained her elementary teaching credential at College of Notre Dame at Belmont. She is presently employed by Campbell Union School District as a recreation director at Capri School.

Matthew, an alumnus of Lincoln High School and University of California at Davis, is completing his master's degree in dramatic art. He is employed by Pepsi-Cola Company.

Tryouts slated for King Dodo

The King Dodo Playhouse will hold auditions for experienced actors on Tuesday evening, August 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the theater, 12378 Sunnyvale-Saratoga Rd.

Two shows will be cast: a world-premiere farce-comedy, "The Money Tree" by Carl Neuman of Los Gatos and "The Gingerbread Lady," a tragic-comedy by Neil Simon.

Five men between the ages of 35 and 55 and three women are needed for "Money Tree".

"The Gingerbread Lady" requires two men, 35 to 45, one 18-year-old boy, one 40-year-old woman and one 17-year-old girl.

Applications for technical work for both productions will be accepted on that evening. Actors must bring a recent photograph and a resume of their acting experience. Both shows are under the direction of Jaleen Holm and are scheduled for a late September opening. "The Money Tree" and "The Gingerbread Lady" will be the K.D.P.'s number 103 and 104 productions.

GRADUATES

Two Campbell students have graduated from California State University in Fresno.

Bruce Warren Bane of 359 Union Ave., was awarded a bachelor of arts degree. Joyce Ann Preston, 185 Shelley Ave., received a bachelor of science degree.

Methodist ceremony

MRS. FRANK LOUIS SHERLOCK

A floor length Victorian gown was the attire of Nancy Ann Daly when she wed Frank Louis Sherlock in First United Methodist Church recently.

Nancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Daly, wore a white Cluny lace over taffeta dress with an Edwardian neckline and camelot sleeves. Her pearl and lace petal headpiece anchored an elbow length silk illusion veil.

As she made her way to the altar she carried a cascade of white roses, carnations, chrysanthemums and baby's breath.

Mrs. Ernest Hammaker of San Jose was honor attendant for the Campbell High graduate. Bridesmaid was Pamela Paulson, cousin of the bride. Tina D'Innocenti was flower girl and Jimmy Yates was ring bearer.

Ron Ford was best man and Craig Daly, Jeff Sherlock and Ernest Hammaker ushered guests to their seats.

Following the ceremony a champagne reception was held at the Orchard City Grange Hall.

The bridegroom, assistant manager at an Eastridge restaurant is now studying to be an x-ray technician. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sherlock of San Jose.

DEAN'S LIST

Mariam Ginden and Elizabeth A. Hamlin, both of Campbell, have been named to the Dean's List for the spring semester at California State College at Sonoma.

Rainbow girls plan breakfast

The Campbell chapter of the International Order of the Rainbow for girls will have a pancake breakfast on Sunday, August 6 at the Grange Hall, 109 North First Street in Campbell. Breakfast will be offered from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 75-cents for children.

The Rainbow Girls Assembly is a service group composed of girls between 13 and 19.

The primary purpose of the group is to render service to the community. Girls donate their time and energies to blind children, convalescent homes, hospitals and many other organizations and activities that have need of their services.

Entirely self-supporting, Rainbow Assemblies rely on activities of members to raise funds not only to pay rent for meeting halls but also to provide contributions to the service projects which they support.

The Campbell Assembly received the California Service Award this year for donating more service hours to their community than any one of the other 205 assemblies in California.

In one recent project, the Campbell girls clocked in 270 hours helping the Red Cross with the retarded children's Olympics.

The Campbell group meets twice monthly on the second and fourth Mondays of the month at 7 p.m. in the Grange Hall. Mother-advisor of the local group of 40 is Mrs. Anna Lind.

Grape pest invades

IN THE FIELDS---Agriculture inspectors Cosmo Insalco, left, and Don Schamberger check vines in local vineyards for the menacing grape leaf skeletonizer which threatens Santa Clara County's $4 million grape industry.

Slogan making will never be the same:

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their county to stamp out Harrisina Brillians!"

No? How about: "We must destroy the Western Grape Leaf Skeletonizer!"

Still no? Maybe just a simple "Get those bugs!" ???

No matter what the battle cry should be, it's clear that grapevines, Virginia creepers and Boston ivy will be shivering at the roots in fear of this little mite, which has invaded Santa Clara County.

A posse of experts are going after the caterpillars; who denude the grape plant of foliage until nothing but the skeleton of the leaves is left.

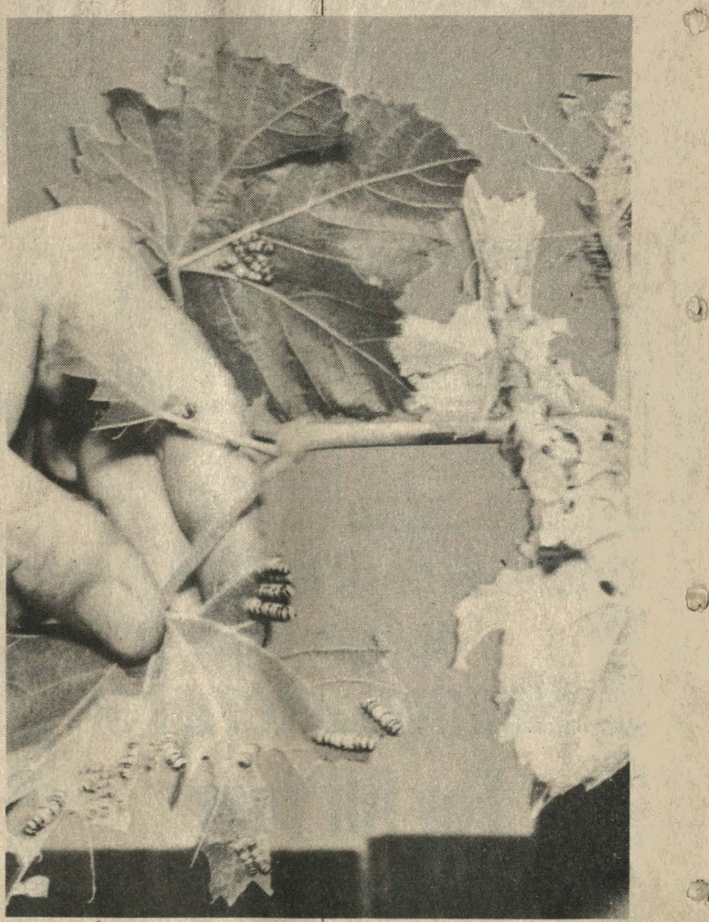
Think of the poor, frightened plants, ready to be eaten of everything but their main veins. (Terrible, terrible!)

Think of the County inspectors, combing the valley floor to detect the pest. (Terrible, terrible!)

Anyone finding the insect should report it to the agriculture department at 75 W. St. James Street in San Jose.

The adult day flying moth has a wing expanse of about one inch. The body is metallic bluish-black or greenish black.

Don't bug out! The County needs your help.



BUGS!---These grape leaf skeletonizer caterpillars on the under side of a grape leaf are taking a feast for themselves. The pest can destroy an entire grape leaf except for the large veins.

DRIVERS & CHILDREN

Slow down, advises the National Automobile Club, when you drive near a school or children at play. It's your responsibility to protect our young. Live up to that responsibility.

ORDINANCE NO. 853
BEING AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF CAMPBELL AMENDING TITLE 21 OF THE CAMPBELL MUNICIPAL CODE BY ADOPTING SECTION 21.35 ENTITLED PUBLIC ZONING DISTRICT.

The City Council of the City of Campbell does hereby ordain as follows:

SECTION ONE: That the following Section be and the same is hereby enacted as a part of Title 21 of the Campbell Municipal Code.

CHAPTER 21.35

P-F PUBLIC FACILITIES DISTRICT

Sections:

21.35.010	Reserved.
21.35.020	Permitted Uses.
21.35.030	Use Permit Required.
21.35.040	Uses Prohibited.
21.35.050	Uses Subject to Conditions and Standards.

21.35.010 The P-F Public Facilities District is reserved for the construction, use and occupancy of governmental, public utility and educational buildings and facilities, and other uses compatible with the semi-public character of the district.

21.35.020 (a) Uses permitted without use permits:

1. Buildings and facilities owned, leased or operated (whether in a governmental or proprietary capacity) by the City of Campbell, the County of Santa Clara, the State of California, the United States of America, any public school district or any other public district within the City of Campbell.

21.35.030 (b) Uses which may be permitted with use permits:

1. Public service buildings and accessory uses.
2. Public utility buildings and service facilities.
3. Electric distribution substations.
4. Church, convent, monastery, parsonage or nunnery.
5. Hospital, rest home or convalescent hospital.
6. Private golf course.
7. Schools other than public.
8. Other uses which are compatible with the semi-public character of the district.

21.35.040 (c) Uses Prohibited:

1. Storage of materials, supplies or equipment for commercial or industrial purposes.

21.35.050 (d) Uses subject to conditions and standards:

Each use, and incidental or accessory use, permitted shall comply with the following standards and conditions notwithstanding any of the provisions of this Chapter.

1. A minimum of ten percent (10%) of each lot shall be devoted to landscape area.
2. The minimum front yard, side yards, and rear yard required in this district shall be equal to those required in the most restrictive abutting zoning district. Except where property in this district abuts property in any other district, the minimum yard required shall be the same as that required along the same property line in the abutting district. One-half foot shall be added to each yard for each foot that the building exceeds the maximum height allowed in the most restrictive abutting district.
3. The maximum structural coverage shall not exceed the maximum structural coverage in the most restrictive zoning district abutting this district.

Tots taught to swim

A child doesn't have to talk to be "in the swim."

Mrs. Gretchen Mack has been teaching aquatic safety to her "water babies" for 20 years.

Her first student was her own daughter, Gina, who could swim for small distances alone at five months.

When the Oakland Tribune featured Gina paddling in the water as a tot, Mrs. Mack received calls from throughout the bay area asking her to open her teaching to the public.

Today, Mrs. Mack specializes in children from four months-up at her Water Babies Swim School at 973 Apricot in Campbell.

The main goal of the school is to teach water safety. When a child falls in the water, he is taught to go to the side of the pool and is given the skills to maintain himself in the water.

Gina is one of the featured teachers at the school. For eight years, Gina was a star swimmer for George Haines at the Santa Clara Swim Club.

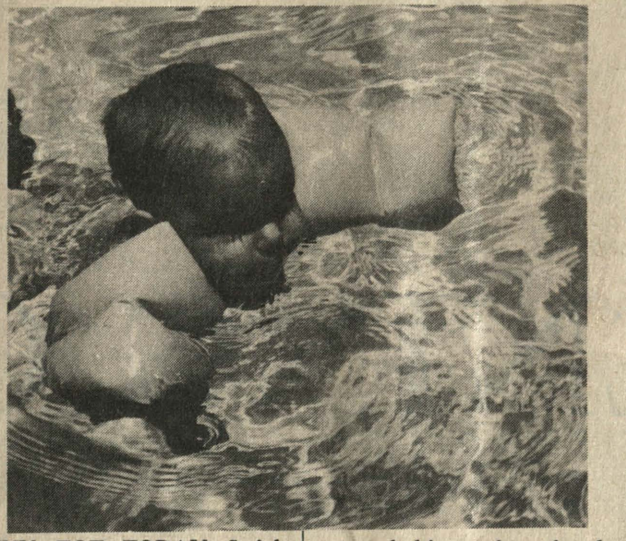
The children are given individualized instruction. Mrs. Mack teaches the children by repetition, giving them the skills to bob and maintain breath control.

Her greatest happiness, she says, is seeing lives saved because of her instruction. One example is Jimmie. "Jimmie completed his basic course with me when he was ten months old," she says. "Eight months later he fell into the family pool. His swimming instruction stood him in good stead in the emergency as he kicked and splashed and held his head up until his mother could come running to the pool to pull him out."

"Swimming is a natural thing for chidlren," she explains. "The smaller they are, the smaller is the chance that they'll be afraid of the water."

Mrs. Mack hopes to teach polio children in the upcoming year. "There was one girl," she says, "who could take off her braces and swim the length of the pool."

"Children," she says, "should be able to swim as naturally as they breathe."



TINY TOT TODAY--Leigh Casey, only five months old, is already swimming alone. One of Mrs. Mack's youngest water babies, she already knows the basic techniques of water safety.

The first annual campership drive of the Society has fallen behind its set goal of $10,000. To date the drive, which seeks to provide 12 days at the camp in Stevens Creek Park, Cupertino, has raised $7000.

Persons who wish to contribute to the drive should send their checks to Camp Easter Seal, 2000 W. Hedding St., San Jose, Calif. 95128.

Student is given research grant

Steve Rosenthal, a 1969 graduate of Campbell High School, and a student at the University of California at Berkeley, is one of five area students doing summer research projects on grants provided by the Santa Clara County Heart Association. He is working at the Santa Clara Valley Medical Center under Dr. Harold Hubis, Associate Chief of Cardiology.

Steven is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Milton Rosenthal of 898 Torero Plaza in Campbell.

Statewide, 53 students participated in the Summer Research Program, coordinated by the California Heart Association. The program's aim is to interest gifted college science students in careers in medicine and medical research by giving them working experience in leading research facilities.

FIELD CONFERENCE--Marine Reserve Lt. Col. J. C. Vernon of 1907 Cameo Dr., Campbell, (center) confers with Col. James Dillon (left), commanding officer of the Marine Air Reserve Training Detachment at Alameda Naval Air Station, and Brigadier General Jay W. Hubbard, commanding general of the all-reserve 4th Marine Aircraft Wing.

Vernon, a reserve pilot, is a San Jose attorney in civilian capacity, but during two weeks of active duty training at Camp Pendleton, he served as operations officer for Marine Air Group 42, which is also headquartered at Alameda as an all-reserve unit.

Retarded troop has two week campout

Pioneer District Troop 399 of the Boy Scouts of America may look like any other group of boys as they head for the outdoors to hike, fish, ride horseback, and fill up on a buffalo barbecue.

But the group has one unusual feature--all of its members are mentally retarded.

Troop 399's membership consists mostly of boys from McKinnon School, where the troop was organized in 1966. Since its inception under scoutmaster Ralph Storti and assistant scoutmaster Richard Gruver, the troop has excelled in all areas of scouting, sometimes more than regular scout packs.

On July 15 the group left for an extended campout to Philmont, New Mexico, location of the National Scout Ranch and Explorer Base.

The trip was undertaken in a five car caravan with radio communications between all vehicles. The boys stopped at Elko, Nevada; Vernal, Utah; Rocky Mountain National Park and at the United States Air Force Academy.

Many organizations sponsored the Philmont trip. Among the sponsoring groups were the Disabled American Veterans, Kiwanis International, and District 508 of the I.A.W. and A.W.

They returned home on July 29 after spending a week at the Philmont center.

New stamp comes out

An engraving of Mount McKinley, North America's highest peak, is featured on a new 15-cent commemorative stamp which went on sale this week at the post office, Postmaster Bill Jennings reports.

First-day-of-issue ceremonies were held at Mount McKinley National Park, Alaska.

It is for use on international post card airmail and international surface mail beyond Canada and Mexico.

The stamp is the last of five to be issued in the National Parks Centennial Series, which celebrates the 100th anniversary of the National Parks System started at Yellowstone.

FLEA MARKET

The First United Methodist Church of Campbell will sponsor a flea market on September 16 in the Campbell Shopping Center from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Anyone with saleable items is asked to call Jan or Ron Looney at 243-5705.

DOG SHOW

The Mount Madonna German Shepherd Dog Club will host its semi-annual specialty dog show on Sunday, August 13. Admission is free and open to the public.

The show will be put on in the Morgan Hill City Park at Hale Avenue.

Harlan Gibbs from Pennsylvania will judge conformation. Obedience judges will be Tom Lams and Carol Curry.

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

The summer season is half over and it is now time to start thinking about the fall-winter season of darts. Several new pubs came into the game this summer.

Some had trouble fielding a team. Others are made up of players from other teams who went over for the summer to help stimulate interest in our sport. All of these teams need players.

A lot of people say "I'm not good enough." What I'd like to say to these people George won't print in this family newspaper. What I will say is that some of the best "fun" games have been with teams made up of mostly new players.

The majority want to learn, but their lack of skill is made up for by their enthusiasm. This enthusiasm affects older players who, for various reasons, have let their game slip.

If you are interested and don't know where to go, let me hear from you. I am sure that we can find a team in your area. There are seven teams in Campbell and more than a dozen in the surrounding area.

The Wednesday night games start at 8:30 p.m. and usually end about 11 p.m. Some matches go faster and some slower. Some of the pubs supply hors d'oeuvres during the games. So for a night of fun and relaxation, you can't beat darts.

TRAIN RIDE---A young participant in the nursery school program at West Valley College peers pensively out the train window which the children rode during their recent field trip to the Southern Pacific Railroad. The nursery school operates Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9 to 11:30 for four year olds and Tuesday and Thursday mornings for children age three. Enrollment in the school, which requires that one parent also take part in the program, is now open. For information contact Mrs. Evelyn Weisberg, teacher, at 867-2200, or at the college's Saratoga campus, 14000 Fruitvale Ave.

"FIND"

The American Red Cross and other organizations will begin seeking out older Americans who are eligible for Food Stamp benefits in August.

The program, part of the nationwide FIND effort, seeks to reduce malnutrition among the elderly by identifying eligible older Americans and assisting them in enrolling in the Food Stamp and Commodity Food programs of their communities.

CHAMPIONSHIP BASEBALL---The West Valley Colt League Board of Directors plan for the regional tournament to be held at Los Gatos High School on the week of August 8.

The West Valley All-Stars will meet teams from Washington, Utah, and the sectional winners from Santa Cruz in a double elimination tournament. The winner is advanced to the Divisional tournament to be held at Washington Park in Santa Clara on August 14-20.

Looking over plans are Rocky Genovese, finance director; Steve Shank, field chairman; Dick Peryam, tournament director; Ray Haney, housing chairman; and Larry Mullins, president of the West Valley Colt League and assistant tournament director.

Navy makes school changes

Navy applicants who qualify but are not able to obtain a reservation for an advance school seat upon completion of recruit training now will be guaranteed that classroom opportunity within the first 19 months of their enlistment.

During the peak summer recruiting months, recruiters generally are able to enlist more applicants than there are openings in the advance schooling.

Under the new "Programmed School Input" concept, a recruit can be guaranteed a specific school assignment of his choice upon completion of an initial duty assignment.

The program, similar to an active duty "Cache" program, is expected to open the opportunity of advance schooling to an additional 3,600 applicants.

Under the program, applicants will sign a three-year enlistment contract. Notation of the school guarantee will be made in the official record, and the recruit will be given a guarantee card.

Following recruit training, the recruit will serve 15 to 19 months at an initial duty station. Then, upon receipt of orders to the advance school, he will be required to extend his obligated service to cover the normal four-year enlistment required of all regular Navy enlistee who receive school assignments.

Should the school seat not be available, or the sailor decline the opportunity when it is presented, he will serve only the remainder of the three year active duty contract.

Additional information on the Programmed School Input is available from Naval Recruiter Thomas B. Lee at 248-7090 or call toll free 800-424-8880.

Bees play benefit game for retarded

The San Jose Bees will battle Stockton on Friday, August 4, for the benefit of the retarded in Santa Clara County.

This is the tenth year the benefit baseball game has been given for the retarded. The game is sponsored by the Bees and the Letterman's Club.

Celebrity guests for the evening will include Joe DiMaggio, Jim Piersall, and Charley O, Mr. Finley's mule. Rumor has it that Postmaster Bill Lawrence has agreed to ride the mule.

Tickets are $1. For more ticket information, contact the Letterman's Club in San Jose.

Fair announces deadlines for entries are next week

Deadline week for entries in the Santa Clara County Fair, August 18-27, is August 7-11. All fair departments will be closed after that week, according to William A. Straub, secretary-manager of the Fair Association.

Floriculture; Pigeons, Poultry & Rabbits; Home Economics and Agriculture/Horticulture all have deadlines during that week.

Persons wishing to enter the Floriculture division have until 5 p.m., Monday, August 7 to turn in their entry forms. Premiums in this department range from $1 to $190.

Five categories include cut flowers, potted plants, feature gardens, floral arrangements and the childrens division. Floral arrangements are centered around the theme "A Floral Circus." All county residents amateur or professional, are eligible to enter, there are no entry fees.

Poultry - Pigeons - Rabbits Division closes Tuesday, August 8. Poultry and pigeons have been closed at this year's fair resulting from the recent outbreaks of Newcastle Disease. To compensate for this loss the Rabbit Show has been expanded to include the largest display of rabbits in the history of the Santa Clara County Fair.

"Lights From Many Lamps" is the theme for feature exhibits in this year's Home Economics Division. Entry deadline for this department is Wednesday, August 9. Besides feature displays, categories include baked goods and confections; clothing and textiles; handicraft and preserved foods.

There are no entry fees and there is no restriction that only women may enter. Straub noted that there has been an increased interest by men in several of these categories and they have been the winners of several premiums. Premiums range from 50 cents to $50 for international and feature displays.

The Agriculture/Horticulture Committee has set August 11 as entry deadline for their division. There are a multitude of categories open for entry, Straub pointed out.

Categories include bee & honey; citrus fruits; decidious fruits; dried fruits, dry bean & pea; feature exhibits, field and garden seed; grain, miscellaneous; nut; small fruit & berry; sub-tropical and vegetable. All entries are of the quality that would bring the highest return on the commercial market. Premiums are as high as $300 for first place feature exhibits.

Entry forms and information may be obtained by contacting the Fairgrounds, 344 Tully Rd., 295-3050.

Obituaries

DON HOLLIS

Don V. Hollis, Jr. of 713 Budd Avenue was killed instantly last week when he was run over by a bulldozer. He was 23.

Hollis served as a grade checker at the Interstate 680 overpass at Cropley Avenue, the site of the accident.

Survivors include his parents, Don V. Hollis of Menlo Park and Mrs. Tabitha Wagner of Sunnyvale, his sister, Mrs. Carol Kiss of Campbell, and his grandfather from Washington, Willie Parsons.

Hollis was buried at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

MICHAEL AGUILERA

A four-month-old Campbell child died last week at his Filbert Way home.

Michael Anthony Aguilera was pronounced dead on arrival at Campbell Community Hospital.

The child is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Aguilera, his three sisters, Rosemary, Linda May and Maria De Los Angeles Aguilera, and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Soledad Meza of San Jose and Mr. and Mrs. Cayetano Aguilera of Gilroy.

The child was buried in the Santa Clara Catholic Cemetery.

RALPH CASTELLANOS
